

Prof Ronit Frenkel

The University of Johannesburg acquired The Thinker in April 2019 from Dr Essop Pahad. Over the last decade, The Thinker has gained a reputation as a journal that explores Pan-African issues across fields and times. Ronit Frenkel, as the incoming editor, plans on maintaining the pan-African scope of the journal while increasing its coverage into fields such as books, art, literature and popular cultures. The Thinker is a 'hybrid' journal, publishing both journalistic pieces with more academic articles and contributors can now opt to have their submissions peer reviewed. We welcome Africa-centred articles from diverse perspectives, in order to enrich both knowledge of the continent and of issues impacting the continent.

CONTRIBUTORS TO THIS EDITION - All contributing analysts write in their personal capacity

Dr Bhaso Ndzendze

Gift Sonkqayi

Bhaso Ndzendze is a senior lecturer and head of department at the University of Johannesburg Department of Politics and International Relations. He is also a digital policy fellow at the Berlin-based Africa Policy Research Institute. His most recent publications include AI and Emerging Technologies in International Relations by the World Scientific Press and The BRICS Order: Assertive or Complementing the West? Published by Palgrave Macmillan. His opinion on technology and policy has appeared in Daily Maverick, The Independent and the Mail & Guardian. He holds a PhD in international relations from Wits University and has completed certificates on artificial intelligence and blockchain technology at MIT.

Gift Sonkqayi holds a Master's degree in Education from Wits University. His research interests include African philosophy of education (i.e. indigenous knowledge systems), sustainable development, race, culture, identity, and class conflicts in education among others. His opinion and analysis have appeared on Mail and Guardian and the Sunday Independent among others.

Candice Chirwa

Candice Chirwa holds a master's degree in International Relations with her research having focused on menstrual health management and gender studies at the University of Witwatersrand. Candice has worked for the United Nations Population Fund as a Junior Consultant. Candice is the Founder and Director of an NGO called QRATE that focuses on creating publications for young children on social issues. Candice has been on several media platforms as a gender activist and commentator. In addition to academics and social activism - Candice serves her community as a Dramatic Arts Mentor and Coach. Her books include Perils of Patriarchy (2019) and Flow: the Book of Menstruation (2021).

Miguel Dos Santos

Miguel Dos Santos is a master's candidate in Politics and International Relations at the University of Johannesburg with research interests in borders and resource based conflicts.

Nadine Hakizimana

Nadine Hakizimana completed her master's degree in International Relations at the University of the Witwatersrand. Her research areas include gender, migration and comparative intellectual property protection in Africa vis-à-vis the rest of the world. She is currently a Program Officer at the World Intellectual Property Organization.

Marcus Hollington

Marcus Hollington is an International Relations master's graduate from the University of the Witwatersrand, independent researcher and consultant. He has worked for numerous domestic and international firms with interests in Africa as well as non-governmental organizations of note. His main areas of expertise are international trade with a bias towards macroeconomic analysis and eco-environmentally friendly energies in South Africa's logistics sector among others. He has published numerous articles within the aforementioned areas.

Zimkhitha Manyana

Zimkhitha Manyana is a professional Writing Consultant at the University of Johannesburg. He is also a freelance monitor for the Parliamentary Monitoring Group (PMG). Manyana is an Oppenheimer Trust Fund holder towards his Master's degree in Political Science obtained in 2021. He is currently pursuing a PhD in Politics with the University of Johannesburg focused on problematising the theory and practice of democracy in Africa.

Lesego Masenya

Lesego Masenya is an Economics PhD candidate at the University of the Witwatersrand. Her areas of research include employment, economic development across urban and rural settings in South Africa. She has previously worked as an Economist for Eskom and Postgraduate Researcher at Acacia Economics.

Candice Chirwa

Candice Chirwa holds a master's degree in International Relations with her research having focused on menstrual health management and gender studies at the University of Witwatersrand. Candice has worked for the United Nations Population Fund as a Junior Consultant. Candice is the Founder and Director of an NGO called QRATE that focuses on creating publications for young children on social issues. Candice has been on several media platforms as a gender activist and commentator. In addition to academics and social activism - Candice serves her community as a Dramatic Arts Mentor and Coach. Her books include Perils of Patriarchy (2019) and Flow: the Book of Menstruation (2021).

Miguel Dos Santos

Miguel Dos Santos is a master's candidate in Politics and International Relations at the University of Johannesburg with research interests in borders and resource based conflicts.

Nadine Hakizimana

Nadine Hakizimana completed her master's degree in International Relations at the University of the Witwatersrand. Her research areas include gender, migration and comparative intellectual property protection in Africa vis-à-vis the rest of the world. She is currently a Program Officer at the World Intellectual Property Organization.

Marcus Hollington

Marcus Hollington is an International Relations master's graduate from the University of the Witwatersrand, independent researcher and consultant. He has worked for numerous domestic and international firms with interests in Africa as well as non-governmental organizations of note. His main areas of expertise are international trade with a bias towards macroeconomic analysis and environmentally friendly energies in South Africa's logistics sector among others. He has published numerous articles within the aforementioned areas.

Zimkhitha Manyana

Zimkhitha Manyana is a professional Writing Consultant at the University of Johannesburg. He is also a freelance monitor for the Parliamentary Monitoring Group (PMG). Manyana is an Oppenheimer Trust Fund holder towards his Master's degree in Political Science obtained in 2021. He is currently pursuing a PhD in Politics with the University of Johannesburg focused on problematising the theory and practice of democracy in Africa.

Lesogo Masenya

Lesego Masenya is an Economics PhD candidate at the University of the Witwatersrand. Her areas of research include employment, economic development across urban and rural settings in South Africa. She has previously worked as an Economist for Eskom and Postgraduate Researcher at Acacia Economics.

Emmanuel Matambo

Emmanuel Matambo holds a PhD in Political Science at the University of KwaZulu-Natal with a focus on the theory of constructivism. He is currently the Research Director at the Centre for Africa-China Studies at the University of Johannesburg. He has published in numerous journals, book chapters as well as co-edited a volume on identity and xenophobia in contemporary Africa.

Charles Matseke

Charles Matseke studied his Master's in International Relations and Foreign Policy at the SARChI: Chair for African Diplomacy and Foreign Policy at the University of Johannesburg and is a PhD candidate at the China Central Normal University. He is currently Program Manager for Africa-China in International Forums. His main areas of focus are developmental policy and developmental foreign policy. He has published on these areas in various platforms.

Anelisa Mzungulu

Anelisa Mzungulu is an independent economist, with a Bachelor of Economics (Honours) from the University of the Witwatersrand. His research interests include development economics and the causes of prosperity in late developer states.

The Thinker

PAN - AFRICAN QUARTERLY FOR THOUGHT LEADERS

The Journal for Progressive Thought
www.thethinker.co.za

Publisher

English Department
University of
Johannesburg
Kingsway Campus,
Auckland Park,
Johannesburg
Tel:+27 11 559 2553

Editor

Prof Ronit Frenkel
Guest Editor - Dr Bhaso Ndzendze
Guest Editor Gift Sonkqayi
thethinker@uj.ac.za
Leila Hall - Assistant Editor
thethinker@uj.ac.za

Design & Art Direction

On The Loose
matt@ontheloose.co.za
Tel:+27 83 302 8969
www.ontheloose.co.za

Advisory Council

Dr Ademola Araoye
(Nigeria), Professor Puleng
Lenka Bula (South Africa),
Dr Faisal Devji (Tanzania),
Professor Chris Landsberg
(South Africa), Professor
Tshilidzi Marwala (South Africa), Professor Sabelo
J Ndlovu-Gatsheni
(Zimbabwe), Dr Morley
Nkosi (South Africa), Dr
Francis Onditi (Kenya)
Professor Eghosa E
Osaghae (Nigeria), Dr
Mzulcisi Qobo (South Africa), Dr Garth le Pere
(South Africa), Professor
Alioune Sall (Senegal),
Addai Sebo (Ghana), Dr
Mongane Serote (South Africa), Professor Mammo
Muchie (Ethiopia).

Material in this publication may not be reproduced in any form without proper citation. Views and opinions expressed in The Thinker are not necessarily those of University of Johannesburg. They can accept no liability of whatsoever nature arising out of or in connection with the contents of the publication.

© 2020 University of Johannesburg
www.thethinker.co.za

RETHINK. REINVENT.

